DEAN'S WELCOME

“Our students don’t wait to make an impact. They lead from the start with confidence, creativity and a community behind them.”

There’s never been a better time to choose Western Law. Our mission is simple but powerful: to empower our students, support research that makes an impact, and strengthen community.

We offer a rigorous and inclusive academic experience that equips you with the skills, perspective and confidence to lead in a rapidly changing legal world. Our faculty and students engage deeply across disciplines, bringing legal insight to business, technology, health, the environment, international justice, space exploration and more. This spirit of collaboration fuels research and teaching that not only advance legal understanding but help shape public policy and drive social change.

Our strengths in business law, global governance and private law in a changing world create pathways for you to lead in areas that matter – whether that means advising companies, designing regulatory systems, or advocating for justice in communities close to home or around the globe. Western Law is the only Canadian law school to offer interested first-year students the opportunity to study corporate law, opening doors to advanced courses in areas like securities regulation, competition law, restructuring, and corporate social responsibility.

We believe you learn best when you have the freedom to explore your interests and chart your own path. Our flexible curriculum, wide range of experiential offerings and strong mentorship culture allow you to shape a legal education that reflects your passions, ambitions and values.

At the heart of it all is community. Our students come from a wide range of personal, cultural and academic backgrounds: over 40% identify as racialized, almost 20% were born outside Canada, and more than 80% are the first in their family to attend law school. This diversity enriches every classroom conversation and fosters a dynamic, supportive environment where you can thrive. Western Law is a place where people show up for each other, where students, faculty, staff, alumni and partners work together to make the law more just, accessible and responsive.

Here, you don’t just receive an outstanding legal education – you gain a network for life. With our world-class faculty, dedicated staff and engaged alumni, there is no better place to think critically, act with purpose and build lasting connections. Our students don’t wait to make an impact. They lead from the start.

There’s never been a more exciting time to be part of Western Law and no better place to begin your journey.

Mohamed Khimji
Dean, Western Law

WHY WESTERN LAW?

Experience a best-in-class legal education in one of the most supportive professional learning environments in Canada. At Western Law, you don't have to choose between an exceptional student life and a rigorous legal education. Here, you'll discover a perfect blend of academic excellence, practical experience and collegial community life.

1. Build lifelong connections in a close-knit community

At Western Law, you're more than a student—you're part of an authentic, encouraging and inclusive community. Our small class size and collegial environment fosters lifelong connections, offering support from peers and personalized attention from professors and staff. Our signature small group program (which brings together approximately 22 students for select first-year courses) and the Student Legal Society 1L/3L buddy program help you create a strong peer network you can rely on.

2. Get a head start on professional legal experience

We offer ample opportunities to gain professional experience during your JD. Our on-campus legal clinics provide volunteer and employment opportunities in a variety of areas including sports law, intellectual property, criminal law, family law and business. We offer a wide range of for-credit and co-curricular advocacy programs that will help you build foundational skills. You can also elect to volunteer for pro-bono services and engage in research and internship opportunities during your studies.

3. Explore the world while you learn

Gaining international experience and intercultural competency can help you get ahead in today's demanding work environment and the global economy. We have one of the largest Canadian law school exchange programs. Our partnerships with 16 leading law schools around the world allow you to explore expanded curriculum options and create a network of international contacts. The Western Law Internship Program (WLIP) also offers 10 to 15 students per year the opportunity to gain experience in North America, Europe, Asia or Oceania.

4. Establish healthy habits with wellness supports

The study of law is rewarding and also brings new challenges and demands. Our dedicated Student Wellness Counsellor offers wide-reaching support to help you with the challenges of law school as well as any personal concerns you may have. We also offer a mindfulness program to first-year students. These opportunities to build healthy habits and strategies during law school will give you a strong foundation as you navigate the demands of your professional legal career.

5. Achieve your goals faster with combined degrees

A JD combined with another professional degree can help you stand out. We offer two undergraduate combined-degree programs with the Ivey Business School (the HBA/JD) and the Faculty of Engineering (the BEng/JD), as well as graduate combined-degree programs (in Business and Earth Sciences). Our JD/MBA program with the Ivey Business School was the first three-year JD/MBA program offered in Canada.

"I chose Western Law for its strong emphasis on academic excellence and its supportive community.

From the 1L small group program to diverse student organizations, events and mentorship opportunities, Western Law provides meaningful ways to connect with peers, engage in the broader legal community, and grow both inside and outside the classroom."

Daivik Shelat, JD '26

ADMISSIONS

We are strongly committed to academic excellence and diverse representation within our student body. While we believe that excellence in your academic studies is the best evidence of your ability to succeed in law school, we also believe that achievement in other areas may indicate potential for success. Accordingly, our admission policy, which allows you to show your potential in a variety of ways, is designed to produce a diverse student body with a variety of backgrounds.

HOLISTIC APPLICATION REVIEW PROCESS

APPLICANT CATEGORIES

GENERAL CATEGORY:

Most candidates apply in this category. At least three years of full-time (or equivalent) undergraduate university education is required, although the majority of admitted students will have a four-year degree.

DISCRETIONARY CATEGORIES:

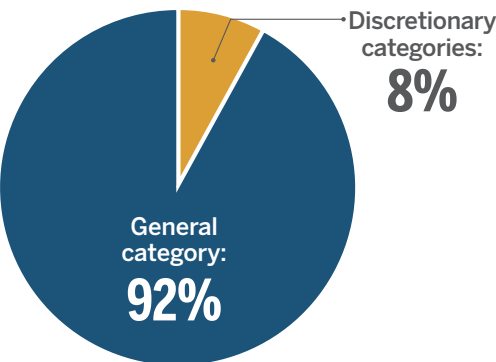

Access: You may qualify for this category if your undergraduate academic performance (or LSAT score) was affected by a proven disadvantage, such as cultural, socio-economic, medical or physical barriers, or a learning disability. You must show evidence of potential to succeed at law school (i.e., a minimum of one year of competitive grades among three years of full-time study).

Indigenous: Western Law recognizes that First Nations, Métis, and Inuit Peoples are underrepresented within the legal profession and strongly encourages applications from Indigenous students. As an Indigenous applicant you are required to submit a declaration of Indigenous citizenship or membership to Western's Office of Indigenous Initiatives. Your application will be reviewed holistically.

Black: Western Law recognizes that Black individuals are underrepresented within the legal profession and strongly encourages applications from members of this group. You will qualify for this category if you self-identify as a member of the Black community. Your application will be reviewed holistically. Applications are typically assessed by at least one Black reviewer (among 2-3 reviewers).

Mature: You will qualify as a mature candidate if you have two or more years of university education, and at least five years of non-university experience since leaving high school. You may provide a resumé as a supplementary document. We will give greater weight to your work and life experience.

FINANCING YOUR LEGAL EDUCATION

We are committed to ensuring our JD students have access to adequate financial resources. In 2023/24, 40 per cent of Western Law students received 1.5 million dollars in bursaries, awards and scholarships. Funding is provided to you through various forms of financial assistance.

Merit-based scholarships recognize and reward students for excellent academic achievement. These include Dean of Law entrance scholarships in amounts up to $50,000 and named entrance scholarships.

Criteria for entrance scholarships may also include financial need, extra-curricular activities, leadership, entrepreneurship and public service. Separate applications are not required for any of these scholarships.

Need-based funding (bursaries, awards and work study) is distributed to students on the basis of demonstrated financial need.

The Torsys LLP Student Support Bursary Program provided an additional $400,000 in funding to Western Law students beginning in the fall of 2020.

EQUITY, DIVERSITY, INCLUSION, DECOLONIZATION AND ACCESSIBILITY

We are committed to pursuing meaningful change as we work together to advance equity, diversity, inclusion, decolonization and accessibility (EDIDA) at Western Law. Our goal is to foster a culture where everyone feels a sense of belonging, the impact of which extends far beyond Western Law. Embedding EDIDA as a core value in lawyering begins with the practice of embedding EDIDA in law school. Our initiatives are guided by our EDIDA Committee, the recommendations of Western Law's Anti-Racism Working Group, Western's Indigenous Strategic Plan, and Western's EDIDA Strategic Plan: Advancing Inclusive Excellence.

REDUCING BARRIERS TO ACCESS

We are committed to applying a human rights lens to our admissions process and reducing barriers for students from equity deserving groups.

Prospective Indigenous law students

Incoming Indigenous law students who successfully complete the University of Saskatchewan Indigenous Law Centre summer program before first-year law will receive credit for Property Law at Western Law. We also provide an award to subsidize the cost of this summer program.

Learn more at law.uwo.ca/indigenous

Prospective Black law students

We are pleased to financially support the law school application process for five Black undergraduate students annually. Eligible students receive a package that includes:

- a voucher for the $200 Ontario University Application Centre (OUAC) application fee;
- a waiver of Western Law's $150 application fee; and
- a Princeton Review LSAT Fundamentals Prep Course, valued at over $1500.

Learn more at law.uwo.ca/black_students

Free LSAT Prep Course

We offer a free LSAT Preparation course annually for high-potential Black, Indigenous and low-income students or graduates who intend to apply to law school in the near future. The course is taught by an experienced LSAT instructor and will prepare you for taking the LSAT as early as August in the year you apply.

Other Financial Support

We offer several scholarships, bursaries and awards for incoming Black, Indigenous or other racialized students.

ACADEMICS, RESEARCH AND STUDENT LIFE

Our JD curriculum and research allow students to explore, among other areas, disability law, Indigenous law, gender-based violence, tort law and social equality, legal issues impacting transgender communities, racial profiling in policing and hate speech.

Engagement with Western's Law's diverse student clubs is key to advancing EDIDA at Western Law. Students can join a variety of clubs, including the Black Law Students' Association, Indigenous Students' Organization, Jewish Law Students' Association, Muslim Law Students' Association, OUTLaws, SLS Diversity Committee, Students for Truth and Reconciliation and Western Women in Law.

ACADEMICS

First-Year JD Program

As a first-year student, you are required to take the following foundational courses:

Torts
Property
Contracts
Criminal Law
Constitutional Law
Legal Research, Writing and Advocacy (LRWA)
Legal Ethics and Professionalism OR Corporate Law*

Both courses are mandatory.
You choose which one to take in first year.*

The Small Group Program

The small group program lies at the heart of the Western Law experience. You will take two courses (one of which is LRWA) in a small group of approximately 22 students, led by a professor and assisted by upper-year students who provide peer and academic support. The program provides an interactive and supportive learning environment, which enables you to develop your skills in legal analysis, research, and written and oral communication with personalized attention from your professors. Every class you attend in first year will be alongside your small group peers. In addition to promoting collegiality and building lifelong friendships, the small group program gives you the confidence and analytical skills you need to become a successful advocate.

PROGRAMS

Upper-Year Curriculum

During your second and third years of study, you are required to take the following courses:

Administrative Law

Civil Procedure

Corporate Law OR
Legal Ethics and Professionalism*

Indigenous Peoples and the Law

Electives

Both courses are mandatory.*

You choose which one to take in second year.

You must also complete essay and writing requirements, which improve the development of critical research and communication skills.

The upper-year curriculum provides a diverse array of courses, clinical opportunities and intensive experiences. Western Law offers several optional curricular streams, which provide you with informal guidance on the courses and co-curricular activities you may wish to pursue based on your personal interests and career aspirations.

Our optional Capstone courses bring together theoretical, practical and interdisciplinary components, and require you to apply the knowledge and skills you have gained during the JD program.

Experiential learning activities that will ease your transition from legal education to legal practice include:

- Oral advocacy exercises such as civil and criminal trials, examinations for discovery, motions and appellate moots
- Negotiation, mediation and arbitration exercises
- Extended simulations of complex litigation files or corporate mergers
- Field trips to courts, government agencies and international organizations
- Clinical opportunities, representing actual clients
- Opportunities to engage with leading scholars, practitioners and judges
- Community engagement projects
- Client and file management
- Externships
- Public legal education
- Applied research projects

COMBINED DEGREES

Undergraduate

For current Western students, we offer an HBA/JD with the Ivey Business School and a BSc/JD with the Faculty of Engineering. These programs allow you to complete both degrees in six years (one year less than if the degrees were pursued consecutively).

Submit applications for our undergraduate combined-degree programs through the Ontario Law School Application Service by May 1 for September admission. June LSAT scores are accepted.

Graduate

We also offer the following graduate combined-degree programs:

- JD/MSc (Geology or Geophysics at Western)
- JD/MBA (Ivey Business School at Western)
- JD/LLM (University of Groningen, The Netherlands)

With Exchange Partners

- JD/LLB (l'Université Laval, Quebec City)

The Business Law Advantage

Our curriculum offers a wide range of courses examining the fundamentals of business organizations, finance, securities, mergers and acquisitions, trade and taxation, as well as leading-edge topics in mining and energy law, and environmental, social and corporate governance.

In addition to renowned full-time faculty, our visiting professors and speakers' programs allow you to learn from pre-eminent lawyers, economists and leaders in the business and public sectors. Since 2007, we have hosted more than 30 of the world's foremost scholars in business and law from the world's top universities, including several Nobel laureates.

We also provide numerous opportunities for you to gain real-world experience through our Business Law Clinic, business-related advocacy competitions and summer internships.

Western Law and the Ivey Business School

The HBA/JD

Each year we set aside a number of places in our first-year class for high achievers in the Ivey Business School Honours Business Administration program. Students apply at the end of their third year of study (HBA1) and complete the first year of law school in Year 4 of the combined program. Years 5 and 6 consist of an approved mix of required and elective courses from both faculties.

The JD/MBA

The JD/MBA program provides an exceptional education for highly motivated, talented students capable of managing the demands of two intensive programs. Students in this program, who are expected to have at least two years of quality work experience, begin with the business essentials component of the MBA before first-year law.

FACULTY

Valerie Oosterveld
Professor

Valerie Oosterveld teaches public international law, the capstone in international law and outer space law. She also coaches the Jessup International Law Moot team. She is the Western Research Chair in International Criminal Justice and a prolific scholar of gender issues in that field. Her latest research project examines the role of technology in investigating gender-based crimes in war. As a space law expert, she is a member of Western's Institute for Earth and Space Exploration.

Jeffrey Warnock
Assistant Professor

Jeffrey Warnock's research focuses on aboriginal law, constitutional law, Indigenous legal traditions and public international law (specifically as it pertains to Indigenous peoples). He teaches Civil Procedure, Constitutional Law, Indigenous Peoples and the Law, and has served as the coach for Western's Kawaskimhon Talking Circle moot team. His LLM examined the UN Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples and the interpretation of the principle of Free, Prior and Informed Consent (FPIC), with a particular focus on the relationship between FPIC and Indigenous legal traditions.

Christopher C. Nicholls
Professor, W. Geoff Beattie Chair in Corporate Law

Christopher Nicholls is Western Law's Director of Business Law. An internationally recognized expert in corporate law, finance, and governance and the regulation of financial markets and institutions, he has written or co-written many academic articles as well as eight books that are widely-used by academics, legal practitioners, courts, and regulators. He has been a Fulbright Scholar and a visiting professor or visiting scholar at leading international law schools including Harvard, Yale, Stanford, Cambridge, Oxford, Melbourne, and the University of Tokyo.

Claire Houston
Assistant Professor

Claire Houston's cutting-edge research explores contemporary issues in family law. She has received grants for her work on trans youth, spousal support for men, pre-marital contracting and the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on access to family justice. Described as a "rising star" in family law, she is a regular speaker at judicial education seminars and is a co-author of a leading family law casebook.

Our 38 full-time and 67 adjunct faculty are recognized as leading scholars in a wide variety of fields. Our small class size provides you with excellent opportunities to directly interact with your professors.

Wade Wright
Associate Professor

Wade Wright teaches courses in constitutional and administrative law. His research focuses on Canadian and comparative constitutional law, with a particular focus on federalism. In 2021, he assumed authorship of Peter Hogg's Constitutional Law of Canada, the leading treatise about constitutional law in Canada, and won Western Law's Award for Teaching Excellence. In 2023, he was named a Western University Faculty Scholar.

Bassem Awad
Assistant Professor

Bassem Awad is Western Law's Director of Intellectual Property, Information and Technology Law. He teaches courses in intellectual property law and technology. His research primarily focuses on the intersection between intellectual property, innovation and frontier technologies (AI and data ownership). He is also a Professor at the Academy of the United Nations' World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) in Geneva and the Chair of the ASRIC Taskforce on intellectual property at the African Union.

Joanna Langille
Assistant Professor

Joanna Langille's research focuses on private international law, international trade law and private law theory. She is particularly interested in moral exceptions in economic and commercial law, and the structure of authority in cross-border private law transactions. She is a graduate of NYU Law, Oxford and the University of Toronto Faculty of Law, and her work has been published in the University of Toronto Law Journal, the American Journal of International Law and Oxford's Philosophical Foundations book series. At Western, she teaches Contract Law, Conflict of Laws, and International Business Transactions.

Maytal Gilboa
Assistant Professor

Maytal Gilboa's research and teaching interests focus on tort law, unjust enrichment, remedies, private law theory and causation in the law. Her recent research projects explore questions relating to the intersection between private law and societal problems, such as tort law and socio-economic status, tort damages and racial and gender bias, and unjust enrichment and climate change. Her work has been published in legal journals such as Legal Theory, the Canadian Journal of Law & Jurisprudence, and the Georgetown Law Journal.

Advocacy Programs

Advocacy is a fundamental skill for aspiring lawyers, which you will develop by preparing written and oral submissions and arguing hypothetical cases before trial and appellate moot courts. Participating students receive comprehensive feedback from practising lawyers and judges.

Upper-year students compete in provincial, national and international advocacy competitions and routinely win awards at these competitions. Multiple areas of legal study are represented in our advocacy program from Constitutional Law, to Corporate Securities, to Family Law.

Western Law students also hone their practice skills in a variety of other competitions.

- Client Counselling
- Contract Drafting
- Kawaskimhon Talking Circle
- Labour Arbitration
- Negotiation

Learn more about our advocacy programs at law.uwo.ca/advocacy

“Oral advocacy competitions have been the highlight of my journey at Western Law. Winning the Cherniak Cup and competing on the Arnup Cup team were defining moments that allowed me to develop and apply my advocacy skills in the courtroom, supported by exceptional mentorship from faculty and peers. These experiences taught me collaboration, precision and composure under pressure, which I carried into my 2L summer position. Western has helped shape me into the advocate I aspire to be.”

Kiana Therrien-Tomas, JD '26

Indigenous Peoples and the Law

Our compulsory upper-year Indigenous Peoples and the Law course provides you with an introduction to Aboriginal law, Indigenous legal traditions, Indigenous constitution building, legal pluralism and the relationship between Indigenous peoples and the Crown.

You will examine topics such as: (1) the impact of colonial policies on Indigenous legal traditions; (2) the treatment of Indigenous legal traditions by the courts; (3) sources of Indigenous legal traditions; and (4) Anishinaabe constitutionalism. You will also be asked to reflect on the importance of understanding Indigenous legal traditions as a part of your legal education.

Instructors for this course include Professor Jeff Warnock, a citizen of the Métis Nation of Ontario who previously worked as a litigator, as the Senior Public Policy Advisor for the Métis Nation of Ontario and on student programs and diversity outreach initiatives at a large full-service firm.

Intensive Courses

Western Law offers several week-long two-credit intensive courses during the academic year, which cater to your specific interests in niche areas of law. Examples include Advanced Topics in Securities Law and Practice, Canadian Energy Law, Public Policy, and Energy Transformation (Diversification), Hate Speech in Canada, Cannabis Law and Practice, Condominium Law, Outer Space Law, and Workers' Compensation Law and Precarious Employment.

Global and Intercultural Engagement Honour

This program recognizes students' achievements in global and intercultural competencies. Through coursework and extracurricular activities, you will enrich your legal educational experiences and develop the skills you need to succeed and prosper in our increasingly interdependent global society. When successfully completed, the Honour appears on your official Western transcript.

Areas of Concentration

Among our eight curricular streams at Western Law are two areas of concentration: Business Law and Intellectual Property, Information and Technology Law. Students who pursue the required courses in either of these areas will receive a certification of this academic concentration on their transcripts.

The Business Law Area of Concentration offers those interested in the legal aspects of business the opportunity to develop their knowledge and expertise in business law and policy. It may appeal to those wishing to work in corporate law, or in public policy, government or regulatory agencies, or those who simply wish to develop their knowledge, expertise and critical perspective on business in society, and the impact of law and regulation on business and financial institutions.

The Intellectual Property, Information and Technology Law Area of Concentration allows students to explore both fundamental topics in intellectual property and administrative law as well as electives including entertainment law, media law, and healthcare law and policy. Graduates work in such settings as large multi-faceted firms, boutique intellectual property firms, government, technology and entertainment companies, and legal publishing.

LEGAL CLINICS AND SERVICES

Community Legal Services (CLS) is a leader in the cause of access to justice. Our clinic provides free legal services to low-income people in the London community and to Western University and Fanshawe College students. Working at CLS provides you with insight into the real-life practice of law. Under the close supervision of expert staff lawyers, you handle all aspects of legal cases, including interviewing clients, drafting pleadings, motions and other legal documents, negotiating with opposing parties, conducting legal research, drafting legal opinion letters, and conducting court appearances, hearings and trials. Upper-year students handle cases in the areas of:

- Criminal law
- Provincial offences
- Civil / Small Claims Court
- Family law
- Human rights
- Landlord and tenant

Students also work on Public Legal Education projects and presentations for the community at large.

In first year, you may apply to volunteer at the clinic as an associate caseworker. Associate caseworkers gain practical experience by assisting with Public Legal Education and shadowing upper-year caseworkers on client files. This may include attending client interviews, court appearances and class discussions.

In addition to volunteer roles, there are also opportunities for students to be involved with CLS through clinical courses and to receive formal academic credit in second and third year. Furthermore, CLS hires several students to manage clinic files during the summer months. Those students become mentors to incoming students during the following academic year.

CLS proudly celebrated its 56th anniversary in 2025 and has served over 25,000 clients since its inception.

 Learn more about our legal clinics at law.uwo.ca/clinics

Western Law offers students numerous opportunities to develop practical skills and gain valuable hands-on legal experience.

The Western Intellectual Property & Innovation Legal Clinic offers a unique experiential learning opportunity for you to develop your professional skills while gaining exposure to a wide range of matters relating to intellectual property (IP) rights, privacy and technology law, under the supervision of external IP lawyers. You will collaborate with authors, artists, inventors, entrepreneurs and start-ups in southwestern Ontario to help them protect their intangible assets.

Pro Bono Students

Canada is a national program. As a law student volunteer, you will be matched with community agencies that need legal services but cannot afford them. You will conduct legal research, participate in placements, or complete other law-related projects for local organizations under the supervision of a lawyer mentor.

The Western Business Law Clinic

provides small start-up and early-stage businesses with student legal assistance overseen by practising lawyers who act as mentors. The clinic allows you to learn valuable practical skills and gain exposure to a wide range of legal matters while providing a benefit to local businesses.

The Sport Solution Clinic is the only program of its kind in North America. It offers the unique opportunity to gain experiences working in sports law by assisting high-performance athletes with sport-related legal issues such as NSO athlete agreements, carding, team selection and safe sport disputes, in addition to appeals at the Sport Dispute Resolution Centre of Canada. The clinic is run as a program in conjunction with AthletesCAN, the association of Canada's National and Olympic Athletes.

The Dispute Resolution Centre is an experiential program that provides you with hands-on training in developing mediation skills. You will meet regularly to participate in mock mediations with expert coaching by a lawyer. Once trained, you will provide mediation and conflict-resolution skills to members of the local community and to students at Western University.

Legal Information for Sexual Assault (LISA) provides free and confidential legal information to the public who have experienced sexual assault or abuse. LISA offers you the opportunity to work under the supervision of a sexual assault lawyer to help survivors understand the legal pathways they may wish to pursue. Clients can meet with a trained law student to discuss their legal options, understand various legal processes and receive information and referrals to legal and non-legal resources.

EXCHANGES AND INTERNSHIPS

Exchange Program ●●●●●●●●

Western Law has established exchange partnerships with 16 leading law schools across four continents: North America, Europe, Asia and Oceania.

Participating in an exchange term allows you to benefit from expanded curriculum options, study legal issues from a new perspective and create a network of international contacts for the future.

More than 40 placements are offered every year, with two to four places usually available at each partner school. Course offerings are available in English at all partner schools (except for Laval).

Western Law values and embraces the international experience, believing that in this era of globalization, exposure to another legal system is exceedingly important.

Internships ● ● ● ● ● ● ● ●

Through our thriving Western Law internship Program (WLIP), you may intern with international organizations, non-governmental and Indigenous organizations, and private industries.

Since its inception in 2006, WLIP has grown to provide up to 15 internships annually in the areas of international law, environmental law, business and finance law, Indigenous law, access to justice and sport law. Short-listed candidates participate in an interview as part of a competitive selection process.

Internships are 10-12 weeks and occur between May and the beginning of August. Interns receive a stipend to assist with costs associated with the internship, such as travel, visas and cost of living.

A legal education at Western Law encompasses more than attending lectures and studying for exams; it includes a healthy lifestyle. We believe this balance is important to ensure you are prepared to thrive through law school and beyond.

Our full-time Student Wellness Counsellor is available to promote and support your wellbeing. You can access timely care, including individual appointments, group programs or workshops. Services are free and confidential.

Our small class provides you with more one-on-one time with professors as well as enriched classroom and co-curricular experiences where classmates become lifelong friends.

We look forward to welcoming you to our dynamic and collegial community!

“Western Law helped me discover my true passion and purpose. What I enjoy most are the breadth of opportunities and the freedom you have to carve your own path. My internship with Legal Aid Ontario through the Debwewin Summer Law Program is a perfect example. It gave me a front-row seat to real-world advocacy with vulnerable clients. At Western Law, you can pursue your interests in meaningful ways that you won’t find anywhere else.”

Student Legal Society

Your Student Legal Society (SLS) works to ensure that you will make the most of your time in law school. The SLS is responsible for many student-led academic, social and wellness initiatives at Western Law and oversees all the clubs and committees you may participate in as a law student. The SLS continually strives to expand its outreach and programming for both law students and the local London community in a variety of ways.

Law Student Initiatives

- The 1L/3L Buddy program matched over 140 first-year students with third-year mentors.
- The Case Summary database offers students multiple summaries in every first-year course and 12 upper-year courses.
- Students organize various social events, including intramural sport leagues and the annual "Law Ball."
- The Diversity Committee hosts "Diversity Month," which includes guest speakers, panel presentations, and other programming.

Community Initiatives

As part of their ongoing support of the local community, Western law students:

- Donate over $13,000 to various community organizations.
- Participate in the annual student talent show "Obiter Dicta," which raises funds for local organizations.
- Volunteer hundreds of hours to facilitate multiple community events.
- Organize textbook drives, clothing drives and food drives.

LIFE IN LONDON

Where is Western University?

Western is located in London, Ontario. London is in the centre of southwestern Ontario, halfway between Toronto and Detroit, or approximately two hours driving distance.

Experience a student-friendly and culturally vibrant city that offers much more than just an education. You'll enjoy a lower cost of living, short commutes and walkable off-campus housing options, which contribute to a more affordable and convenient lifestyle.

Diversity and growth

London is one of Canada's fastest growing cities! More people are calling London home, including many visitors and immigrants who bring rich culture, diversity and economic opportunities to the city.

Culture and nightlife

Sports. Parks. Trails. Museums. Shopping. Dining. Nightlife. Festivals. Markets. Skiing. Theatre. Art...and a whole lot of music. London is Canada's first UNESCO City of Music boasting approximately 4,000+ concerts and music events annually.

Easy transportation

Use a London Transit Bus Pass to get around the city. It's included in your tuition fees!

LIFE AT WESTERN

Western boasts one of the most beautiful campuses in Canada. Situated along the banks of the Thames River in London, Ontario, our gothic-style architecture and ivy-covered campus blend in seamlessly with 1200 acres of rolling hills. With a campus that is 1.5 times the size of Central Park in New York City, you will find endless scenic locations to study, chat with friends or relax! As a Western Law student, you have access to all of Western's amenities and services including health and wellness programs, co-curricular opportunities and campus clubs and recreation.

LAND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

We acknowledge that Western University is located on the traditional lands of the Anishinaabek, Haudenosaunee, Lūnaapéewak and Attawandaron peoples, on lands connected with the London Township and Sombra Treaties of 1796 and the Dish with One Spoon Covenant Wampum. This land continues to be home to diverse Indigenous peoples (e.g. First Nations, Métis and Inuit) whom we recognize as contemporary stewards of the land and vital contributors of our society.
